"Susan is creative thinking in action, online and offline." ~

Tracie Root, Founder of The Gather Community

Susan is an inspiring, motivating, and fun speaker whose friendly and creative communication style makes her a breath of fresh air for audiences ranging from artists, writers and coaches to entrepreneurs and small business owners.

She is the Founder and Facilitator of The CoCreation Community—a community of Creatives supporting each other while co-creating, communicating, and igniting positive change. She especially enjoys helping Chronologically Gifted Women Creatives (artists, writers/authors, coaches, and healers over 60) get comfortable online and in social media, develop presence, and have fun, so that their awesome value is seen, and messages are heard.

At the entrepreneur game for over 50 years, with successful businesses in different industries, Susan works both virtually and in person with groups, and peer-to-peer. She mentors emerging entrepreneurs, and she facilitates and hosts workshops in teaming, marketing, brainstorming, and social media. Her signature style is outside-the-box, creative, and fun.

Susan's mantra is: Do well by doing good. For several decades she's integrated her passions and talents in the areas of design, fine art, writing, audio/film production, and business/marketing development into projects like The CoPassion Project and the A-Place-To-Call-Home/Voices of Our Story project—signature philanthropic projects promoting inclusion, compassion, and common humanity by communicating Story through multi-media arts.

Susan is also a fine artist working in mixed-media including digital art and exploring the world of Blockchain NFTs.
